

Digital Tattoo Next Gen

About Us

---

BATForce has launched an updated Digital Tattoo Next Gen workshop. We began Digital Tattoo in 2009, before we could fully imagine how technology would reshape childhood and family life. With evolving education policies, new social media laws and young people exploring workarounds, we've redesigned this workshop for today's next generation.

Sessions are interactive and strength based, age and developmental level appropriate, 90 mins in duration and delivered through a respectful relationships lens.

The workshops are fee for service, please give us a call to find out costs for your school or community.

OVER 60 WORKSHOPS
DELIVERED IN 2025

batforce
BARWON ADOLESCENT TASK FORCE

The Digital Tattoo Next Gen workshops cover content that is age appropriate from the list below:

Supporting healthy relationships, being able to sit with 'no', AI conversations, algorithms, self-agency and cultural humiliation, the impact of fear, shame and guilt, influencers, navigating tech discussions within friendship groups, boundary setting, gambling and gaming, pornography and sexting.

Leigh has been delivering the Digital Tattoo program for over 15 years and has delivered 100s of workshops for parents and carers, students and teachers as well as the community sector.

What they say

"Fantastic ,engaging and so many key takeaways. Very valuable." Secondary Parent 2023

"My Daughter came home saying today's session of Digital Tattoo was the best thing she's done at school that's not school stuff. Thank you, can't wait to sit with her and talk about what she has learnt." Parent 2023

"The benefit of BATForce's parent education face to face sessions are invaluable for all school communities. Schools cannot do this important educational work with families without the direct support of expert practitioners who have the theory, practice and narrative skills to engage all parents across a school community. Our recent evening with Leigh Barlett was highly informative and practical. Every parent was fully engaged in an interactive session and left feeling empowered with practical strategies to apply to support their children's social and emotional connections in the online world." Principal 2023
